Agency Description
The Ocmulgee Judicial Circuit’s Victim/Witness Assistance Program (OJC-VAP) is a government agency that serves victims of homicide/murder, domestic violence, sexual assault (including but not limited to child molestation and rape), aggravated assault, armed robbery, and kidnapping; however, the agency’s services are designed to reach a diverse community. The agency has the 2nd largest judicial circuit in the State of Georgia with an approximate land size of 3,027 square miles and a citizen population of approximately 160,000. It serves eight counties: Baldwin, Greene, Hancock, Jasper, Jones, Morgan, Putnam, and Wilkinson Counties. The OJC-VAP is a prosecution-based program under the supervision of Fredric D. Bright, the District Attorney. Each of the advocates’ offices are located within the suites of the district attorney’s offices working directly with the district attorney and/or his assistant district attorneys. All of the advocates are in separate offices in Baldwin, Jones, Putnam, and Wilkinson counties, rather than at a central location. With the exception of Jones County, all of the advocates’ offices are housed in the county courthouses. All of the advocates are prosecution-based with the sole purpose of guiding victims through the court process, helping victims receive restitution, providing crisis intervention, and providing referrals to counseling and community services.

Project Description
The OJC-VAP was initiated in January of 1992. Funded by the Criminal Justice Coordinating Council, the pilot program began in Milledgeville/Baldwin County and expanded to the agency’s other seven counties (Greene, Hancock, Jasper, Jones, Morgan, Putnam, and Wilkinson) in 1995. The OJC-VAP has received CICC funding for approximately 18 years. This program aims to accompany the victim throughout the criminal justice system while minimizing the trauma of victimization as much as possible. The agency believes in providing care, support, and assistance to anyone who has suffered harm or loss; and, encourages and enables them to function in society uninhibited by the burden of injustice. The agency offers essential, direct services to victims such as accompanying victims to the hospital, referral to counseling, orientation to the criminal justice system, court escort, crisis intervention, defendant arrest and bond status, case status and disposition information, contact persons within the judicial system, restitution claims, assistance filing temporary protective orders, intervention on behalf of victim with employers or school personnel to explain absences or behavior changes, and Victim of Crime claims assistance. In addition to victims assistance services, the District Attorney’s Office prosecutes both felony and misdemeanor cases.

Agency Description
Georgia's P.o.r.c.h. (Professional outreach and resource center for healing) is a statewide government project sponsored by the Ocmulgee Judicial Circuit District Attorney's Office. It is located in central Georgia. Since its inception in 1998, Georgia's P.o.r.c.h. has received VOCA funding to provide clinical and justice support services to an underserved population (i.e., co-victims of homicide, suicide, critical incidents). The P.o.r.c.h. provides overnight accommodations to co-victims and emergency services personnel as refuge during justice proceedings, anniversary death dates, and for intensive counseling services. All staff are licensed, or licensed eligible, professional counselors and have extensive clinical experience. All staff are Certified Bereavement Facilitators through the American Academy of Bereavement and have completed the International Critical Incident Stress Foundation's required curriculum to provide debriefing services. The Director has completed training with the Homicide Support Project at the Virginia Mason Medical Center's Separation and Loss Unit in Seattle, Washington; and the P.o.r.c.h. has been identified as one of the program's regional sites.

Agency Description
Ocmulgee CASA, Inc. is a non-profit corporation whose purpose is to recruit, train, and supervise volunteers to advocate for victims of child abuse and neglect that are involved in juvenile court proceedings. Using criminal background checks, fingerprinting, interviews and references, the volunteers, (CASA), are carefully screened. The CASAs then participate in a 30-hour training course and upon completion, are sworn-in to service by the Ocmulgee Circuit Juvenile Court Judge.

Ocmulgee CASA has volunteers in the eight counties in the Ocmulgee judicial circuit. The circuit encompasses 3082 square miles and is considered rural. Currently it has 50 active volunteers and many more are needed. These volunteers are wonderful people who give their time to these young crime victims. Ocmulgee CASA is governed by a volunteer board of directors.

Project Description
When children are abused, they are often removed from their home. Some are victims of violence, psychological torment, or sexual abuse. Often these children also become victims of the overburdened child welfare system. In these cases it is essential that a Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) be assigned by the juvenile court judge to advocate for the child’s best interest. CASA volunteers are assigned to an abuse or neglect case by a judge. They conduct thorough research on the background of the case, reviewing documents, interviewing everyone involved, including the child. They make reports to the court, recommending what they believe is best for the child, providing the judge with information that will help him in making an informed decision. CASA volunteers can be instrumental in assuring that a child or family receives services which the court has ordered – such as, substance abuse counseling or special education testing. During the life of a case, a CASA volunteer monitors the child's situation to make sure he remains safe. CASA volunteers may be the only constant the child knows as she moves through the labyrinth of the child welfare system. CASA volunteers make a difference in children’s lives.

Agency Description

Peace Place, Inc. brings together advocates, donors, volunteers, community partners, allied organizations and supportive individuals who are committed to ending domestic violence. Guided by the voices of survivors, the agency works to create safe communities in Jackson Banks and Barrow counties through the provision of safe shelter and supportive services for victims and survivors of domestic violence.

Project Description

Peace Place, Inc. has free, confidential, comprehensive programs with the primary purpose of providing assistance to domestic violence survivors and their children.

These services include:

24-Hour Crisis Hotline: Peace Place provides twenty-four hour a day, seven days a week information and crisis counseling services for survivors of family violence through the hotline.

Safe Shelter: All survivors meeting eligibility criteria are provided confidential safe shelter free of charge. The shelter is open 24 hours a day 365 days a year. The shelter has 15 beds; each woman and her children can stay for a minimum of 30 days.

Hotel/Motel: Peace Place offers hotel accommodations for a minimum of 7 days when there are circumstances such as male survivors needing safe shelter, the shelter is at capacity, or a survivor is caring for males over the age of 18.

Crisis Intervention: Peace Place provides empowerment advocates 24 hours a day 365 days a year who provide support, education and assist the person in distress to resolve the immediate problem & regain emotional equilibrium.

Transitional Housing: Peace Place’s transitional housing program consists of 4 apartments and two houses. Each program participant may reside in the program for up to a one-year period in an effort to assist them in obtaining higher goals of education and economic self-sufficiency.

Financial Assistance/Household Establishment Assistance: Peace Place provides assistance to survivors enrolled in residential or outreach services through case-management. The agency’s advocates provide assistance in with finding new residences or maintaining existing residences through emergency financial assistance and advocacy with utility departments and local community agencies that assist in providing resources for household related goals. In addition, though their Thrift store, Peace Place is able to provide household items and furniture free of charge to survivors enrolled in services.

Transportation: Peace Place provides transportation to those who need it in a variety of ways: cab fares, the program van, and regional bus lines.

Children’s Services/parenting support education: The agency’s services to children and adolescents include but are not limited to intake, physical and social assessment, safety planning, one-hour children/teen groups offered 2 days a week, and individual sessions. Advocates offer parenting information/education groups for mothers as well as individual parenting sessions.

Advocacy, Empowerment-Based Counseling, Case Management and Groups: Peace Place’s advocacy, empowerment-based counseling (emotional support), and case management are based upon survivor-identified goals, which are used to identify and prioritize survivor needs. Support groups are offered to residents two days a week, one of which is open to non-residents. Support groups are also offered weekly in the outreach areas.

Safety Planning: The individualized safety planning process is accomplished through lethality assessments, education on the potential risks in the survivor’s environment, and the exploration of safer options. Safety status is reevaluated every time the survivor’s situation changes.

Referrals/ Community Partners/ Social Service Advocacy: Peace Place provides referrals for survivors to assist in achieving their self-directed goals. The goal of Peace Place’s social advocacy and referrals is to strengthen relationships between survivors and the identified agencies that will help in achieving self-sufficiency. Advocates assist survivors by providing contact information and advocating in person or via telephone on the survivor’s behalf when requested.

Legal Advocacy: Peace Place provides court or legal advocacy including court escorting, assistance completing and filing temporary protection orders, and referral to legal services, or pro bono attorneys. Legal advocates also train and offer assistance to the criminal and civil justice system in each county served.

Outreach Programs/Services to Underserved Populations/ Follow Up: Outreach advocates provide crisis intervention, safety planning, legal advocacy, individual and group counseling to survivors and their children in Jackson, Banks, and Barrow Counties. These are services that are available for those who chose not to come to shelter or who have exited the shelter program and are requesting follow-up services, or non-residential program support.

Community and Professional Education and Awareness: Peace Place also provides education for domestic violence survivors and their children about the dynamics of family violence, safety planning, life skills training, and community resources. Additionally, Peace Place staff provides community education and professional trainings geared toward addressing increased awareness and understanding of domestic violence in our communities and advocating social change as the primary means of increasing survivor safety and batterer accountability.

Advocates for Bartow's Children, Inc. (ABC) is a 501(c)(3) organization that has been in existence since 1982. ABC is a community-based non-profit organization charged with providing services in the area of child abuse prevention and services. Besides CASA, ABC programs include Flowering Branch Residential and Assessment Center (primarily serves children in foster care, but also serves runaway and homeless youth); Bartow Family Visitation Program (supervises visit between foster children and their parents with a hands-on parenting training included); A Better Way Child Advocacy Center (forensic interviews with children who are possible victims of sexual abuse and severe physical abuse and conducted and preserved so that the child does not have to repeatedly tell their story, and a Family Advocate to assist families by referring them to community services, and helps them apply for victim's assistance, and supports them through the prosecution phase); Rainbows Grief Support Program (works with children grieving from a loss due to death or divorce); Project Safe Place (community locations where children and adolescents can ask for help if they find themselves at risk); Transparenting (mandated course that all divorcing parents must attend); First Steps (new mothers can receive information regarding services available to them and their child); Jacob's Ladder Mentors (mentors for the children placed at Flowering...
Branch). ABC serves as the lead partner for the Child Fatality Review, and the CASA Director is the chair for the Bartow County Child Abuse Protocol Board.

Project Description
There are several programs under ABC's umbrella that interact with child victims, as noted above. Children in foster care need CASA because of the overburdened social welfare system, and CASA volunteers are the best way to ensure that the court is aware of the needs and wishes of the children who are victims of child abuse and neglect. Bartow County CASA's mission is to recruit, and provide screened, trained and supervised community volunteers who speak up for the best interest of child victims involved with Juvenile Court Deprivation proceedings. CASA Volunteers advocate for the best interest of abused and neglected child victims, one child at a time. Bartow County CASA is a team member of the Bartow County Juvenile Family Drug Treatment Court, is an active member of the Court Improvement Initiative to develop "best practice" guidelines for Juvenile Courts in Georgia regarding deprivation proceedings. Bartow County CASA is a member in good standing with National CASA and Georgia CASA, and follows the standards of best practice guidelines for nation-wide CASA programs.

Agency Description
The Alapaha Judicial Circuit District Attorney’s Victim Assistance Program (VAP) is in its fifteenth year of providing services to all victims of crime in the agency’s rural, five-county circuit. The program has four (4) Victim Assistant positions working from three District Attorney’s offices in Berrien County (Nashville), Cook County (Adel), and Atkinson County (Pearson). They are professional, trained, dedicated, hard-working advocates who have a passion for victim issues.

The agency’s purpose is to provide direct services, including mandated obligations, to all victims of all crimes. The VAP is a prosecutorial-based victim service agency, assisting the prosecutors with victim cases. Within the 2016 square-mile circuit, the AJC D.A.’s Victim Assistance Program provides services to victims which extend from the moment of first-response to post-sentencing, and include services when no criminal charges are taken. Crime victims of misdemeanor, felony, and juvenile crimes are offered services by the agency.

The agency holds memberships in NCVC (The National Center for Victims of Crime) and NOVA (National Organization for Victim Assistance). The Victim Assistance Program was established with and has been maintained with VOCA grants from Criminal Justice Coordinating Committee.

As the only prosecutorial victim service agency in the Circuit, it also works to increase awareness of crime victims’ issues and to increase efforts toward collaboration and improved treatment of victims. The VAP collaborates with out-of-circuit non-profit agencies which provide services it cannot provide to crime victims. The agency coordinates and collaborates with law enforcement, probation and parole, schools, DFCS, CASA, and counseling agencies to better serve victims.

Agency Description
The Solicitor General’s Office Victim Witness Assistance Program in Macon, Georgia (VWAP) was implemented in 1995 after the General Assembly passed legislation (O.C.G.A. 17-17-15) that created the "Crime Victim's Bill of Rights." The VWAP provides direct services, as required by law, to crime victims so that they will not be revictimized by the criminal justice process. VWAP advocates for crime victims through the prosecution process. The most effective assistance provided to victims is removing the offender from the community to prevent further crimes. If victims receive support through VWAP, they are more likely to report a crime, receive support services to prevent continued abuse and/or cooperate in an investigation. VWAP also assists victims with post-conviction cases, such as criminal appeals, many of which take many months to gestate to final resolution. The agency coordinates case-level victim advocacy with other State Victim programs at the Department of Corrections and Board of Pardons and Paroles when offenders are under consideration for parole.
Project Description
The agency’s VWAP program is under the umbrella of the State Solicitor General’s Office. The Program Coordinator reports to the State Solicitor, Mr. Otis Scarbary.

Macon, GA 31210
Project Director: Sherrie Bridges-Sinclair   Email: sherrie.sinclair@cgcasa.org

Agency Description
Founded in 1997 by the Family Counseling Center of Central Georgia, Central Georgia CASA, Inc. (CGCASA) is a private, non-profit 501(c)(3) organization with a mission to foster the safety, stability, and security of neglected and abused child victims by representing their best interests in the Macon Judicial Circuit’s Juvenile Court deprivation proceedings in Bibb, Peach, and Crawford Counties. In keeping with their mission as well as the state’s child welfare goals of safety, permanency, and child well-being, CGCASA is dedicated to finding safe, permanent homes for abused and neglected children involved in deprivation proceedings. It does this primarily through citizen volunteers who are trained to effectively advocate for the child victim in court.

Project Description
CGCASA achieves its mission through recruiting, screening, and training citizen volunteers to be advocates for children who are victims of physical, sexual, emotional abuse and/or neglect. These children often come from families that are economically and educationally disadvantaged, have a history of physical and/or substance abuse, and/or mental illness.

Federal and Georgia Laws support this service design. O.C.G.A Section 15-11-55 states that “…In deprivation cases, an attorney or court appointed special advocate, or both, may be appointed as the child’s guardian ad litem.” It defines a ‘court appointed special advocate’ as “a volunteer who has been screened and trained regarding deprivation, child development, and juvenile court procedures and has been appointed as a guardian ad litem by the court…”

The role of a Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) volunteer is to gather all of the relevant facts of a case by reviewing documents and interviewing all individuals involved and then to make a recommendation to the court that is consistent with the overall goal of providing safety and permanency for every child. The CASA volunteer strives to protect the abused and neglected child victim from further harm, assists in establishing permanency as quickly as possible, ensures that the child victim receives the needed community services, and provides support to the caretakers / families after permanency is achieved. These efforts are essential as child abuse and neglect have pervasive and long-lasting effects on children, their families, and the society.

Agency Description

The Victim Witness Assistance Program (VWAP) is designed to implement each requirement specified in O.C.G.A. 17-17 and attempts to serve all crime victims in Butts, Lamar, and Monroe counties.

It is the mission of the District Attorney through his Victim Services Program to respond to the emotional and physical needs of crime victims; assist primary and secondary crime victims in stabilizing their lives after victimization; aid crime victims in understanding and participating in the criminal justice system; and provide crime victims with a measure of safety and security.

Project Description
As a vital extension of the District Attorney's Office, the Victim Services Unit implements all components of the Georgia Crime Victim Bill of Rights. Victim Services staff work in each field office alongside the District Attorney and his Assistant District Attorneys to meet and maintain a professional relationship with as many crime victims as possible while ensuring their rights are upheld.

Services provided to victims through the District Attorney's Victim Services Unit begin when the incident occurs and the warrants are issued and continue through case disposition and sentencing of the offender. The District Attorney's Victim Services staff serves victims through referrals to appropriate agencies where victims can successfully obtain counseling, Protective and Stalking Orders as well as food, clothing, transportation, and shelter.

Victim Services staff is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week to provide crisis counseling; emotional support; assessment interviews for determining appropriate referrals; physical accompaniment during interviews with law enforcement and prosecutors; physical support at line-ups, hearings and court appearances; information concerning the various stages in the judicial system; criminal justice support with notification of case status; assistance in filing Victim Compensation claims; non-emergency safety planning; restitution documentation for court purposes; preparation of Victim Impact Statements and assistance with letters to the Parole Board; coordination between court officials, defense attorneys, probation or parole officers, and law enforcement when victims feel at risk of further victimization by their offenders; and, victim notification of bond hearings, grand jury decisions, disposition options, defendants' release from jail and case status.

The Victim Services staff is a permanent fixture in each of our courthouses and our Judges look to staff when victim issues arise. The District Attorney and his assistants rely on the staff to offer support to victims in ways that help the victims feel safe and secure in the courtroom while keeping the attorneys informed of any changes in the victims' opinions of the case or willingness to prosecute. Officers and deputies count on the staff to be available should they respond to a crime scene and find a victim in need of services beyond the scope of law enforcement. Court Bailiffs count on staff to assist in seating victims for court and locating victims when testimony is required.

Agency Description
The Chatham County Office of the District Attorney prosecutes criminals aggressively, seeks justice for victims of crimes and advocates for the rights of victims, in an ethical and effective manner. The DA's Office is committed to working with other law enforcement officials and governmental agencies, local community organizations, the faith community and the private sector to strengthen crime prevention efforts in Chatham County.

The Office employs 38 attorneys, along with a full complement of professional and administrative staff who support the following divisions and offices:

Superior Court
This division handles the prosecution of felony cases and consists of the following assistant district attorneys: Chief DA, 12 Assistant DAs assigned to six judges; two assistant DAs assigned to the Chatham Narcotics Team; and two Assistant DAs assigned to the Office of Child Support Services.

Early Intervention Program (EIP)
The EIP is staffed by three attorneys who work to improve the processing and resolution of felony warrants and is led by a Deputy Chief Assistant DA.

Special Victims Unit (SVU)
SVU is staffed by seven attorneys who specialize in the prosecution of domestic violence, child abuse, elder abuse and sex offender registry cases. This team is led by a Deputy Chief Assistant DA.

State Court
This division is responsible for prosecuting misdemeanor cases in State Court and Recorder's Court. The State Court team is led by a Deputy Chief Assistant DA and consists of six Assistant DAs assigned to four judges, an Assistant DA assigned to DUI Court and DUI Recorder’s Court.

Juvenile Court
The Juvenile Court division is responsible for prosecuting felony and misdemeanor cases involving juveniles. This team is also responsible for prosecuting truancy, runaway and other un-governable offenses by juveniles. This division is led by a Deputy Chief Assistant DA and three attorneys assigned to three juvenile court judges.

Criminal Investigation Bureau
The Criminal Investigation Bureau processes cases through their ability to investigate and provide evidence on cases presented by the DA's office. The bureau is led by a Chief Criminal Investigator and includes 11 investigators, who are sworn law enforcement personnel.

Victim-Witness Assistance Program
This program provides a variety of free services to crime victims, witnesses and their families, including case information, courtroom orientation, referrals to community agencies and assistance with applying for financial compensation. A bilingual, Spanish-speaking advocate is employed by VWAP to provide services to non and limited English speaking victims and witnesses and serves under the VWAP Director.

Child Support Services
The Office of Child Support Services processes all child support cases and enforces child support orders, including the prosecution of child support violators.

Project Description
The Chatham County VWAP is a unit of the Chatham County District Attorney's Office. This program provides a variety of services to crime victims, witnesses and their families, including case information, court orientation and preparation, referrals to community agencies and assistance with applying for financial compensation. The unit works in close collaboration with the Savannah Chatham Metropolitan Police Department and several victim support agencies.

VWAP employs 14 staff and 8 volunteers who work with victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, child abuse, elder abuse, robbery, theft and other violent and/or property crimes. The office also assists families of homicide victims. VWAP has played a lead role in educating the community about the impact of violence on victims' lives and on the rights of victims. Between October 1, 2010 and August 30, 2011, VWAP had contact with 3,233 victims and witnesses.

Over the past several years, due to changing demographics in Chatham County, VWAP has had to address the increase in Spanish speaking victims and witnesses. This population is often targeted for violent and property crimes, but are reluctant to report such offenses. In 2010, VWAP engaged a bilingual Spanish speaking Advocate to provide advocacy to Spanish speaking victims and witnesses who have limited English language skills or who do not speak English. The advocate works with all victims and witnesses and provides outreach to the Latino community. This advocate had contact with 647 victims and witnesses between October 1 and August 31, 2011 which included English and Spanish speaking clients.

VWAP also has a sub unit within the division, the Violence Intervention Program (VIP). VIP is a hospital-based violence intervention program that provides intervention services to victims of violent crimes to deter re-engagement in a violent lifestyle. This unit employs three individuals who are housed at Memorial University Medical Center.

6602 Abercorn Street
Suite 203
Savannah, GA 31405
Project Director: William Broker Email: bbroker.savannah@glsp.org
Authorized Official: Phyllis Holmen Email: pholmen@glsp.org

Agency Description
Georgia Legal Services Program is a private, non-profit law firm that provides free civil legal services to citizens of 154 Georgia counties outside of the five-county metropolitan Atlanta area. Free civil legal assistance is often the difference in whether a person can obtain housing, food, or needed medical treatment. The Savannah Regional Office of Georgia Legal Services Program focuses on assisting individuals in the areas of elder law, domestic violence, foreclosure prevention, homeless prevention, and consumer law. The victim assistance program at GLSP (Savannah) provides special services to seniors who are victims of crime, fraud and other forms of abuse. Given the legal tools the law-firm possesses, it is able to put these to work on behalf of victims. Having a presence in the 11-county area served by the office, seniors have access throughout the service area. The office handles other programs assisting seniors in conjunction with the two RDC's and the victim assistance program compliments and gives greater depth to this work.
Project Description
The Elder Abuse Prevention/Intervention Program provides legal advocacy and follow-up services to victims of elder abuse ages 60 and older. The program seeks to reduce the incidences of elder abuse by providing advocacy, information, education, and legal services to victims. The program increases awareness of elder abuse by offering educational forums on many different aspects of elder abuse to agencies and concerned citizen groups. Two attorneys and one volunteer attorney provide advice and legal assistance, as well as emergency legal assistance when needed. The project attorneys also provide follow-up services, such as support services and referrals, to ensure victims have access to safe environments and do not return to abusive situations.

During the past year (July 1, 2011 - present), the program opened 100 new cases. Although providing direct services to elder abuse victims is the program's primary goal, the program's accomplishments also include working closely with other agencies. The project works closely with the Long Term Care Ombudsman Program and other organizations which target elderly individuals. The project also works closely with the Elder Rights Program, which is also housed at Georgia Legal Services. A close working relationship with the DA's office as well as with local hospitals, Department of Family and Children's Services and other entities allows the project to expand it's effectiveness.

The program serves the following eleven Georgia counties: Bryan, Bulloch, Candler, Chatham, Effingham, Emanuel, Evans, Liberty, Long, Tattnall, and Toombs.

Agency Description
Children First works in the community and the courts to promote safe stable nurturing homes for children in our community. The agency envisions a community where families and leaders put children first in times of crisis and transition.

Project Description
Athens-Oconee Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA) Program Inc. is a program of Children First, a non-profit agency advocating for child victims of abuse and neglect. Children First administers the Athens-Oconee CASA program and ensures the services through CASA and Children First Inc's other programs are integrated and work together to best serve the child victim.

The children CASA serves are between the ages of 0-18 and have been found deprived in the Juvenile Court of the Western Judicial Circuit. During juvenile court proceedings, the abuser is represented by an attorney, the Department of Children and Family Services is represented by its counsel, but very often the child does not have anyone protecting his/her interests. This is where the CASA program makes a difference in these children’s lives. It provides a comprehensive advocacy service for these young victims. The agency’s goal is to recommend the most appropriate permanent placement available, keeping in mind that the family of origin is the ideal placement if it can be maintained in a safe and stable manner.

The program served over 159 children in Clarke and Oconee counties last calendar year. These children were served by 50 screened, trained, and supervised volunteers. It’s volunteers are trained and supervised directly by a staff member. This person meets regularly with volunteers in peer group and ongoing training sessions. The agency is available to the volunteers for consultation and assistance in accessing the resources available in our community. The CASA is the expert on the child, and the staff is available as the expert on the system and the resources available to families and children in the community.

Agency Description
Clayton County Solicitor General’s Office is a government agency that prosecutes an approximately 35,000 misdemeanor cases annually. It is housed in the Harold Banke Justice Center accessible by public and private transportation.

In September 1995, the Victim Witness Assistance Program (VWAP) was established in compliance with the new legislation the “Georgia Crime Victim Bill of Rights.” This legislation required law enforcement agencies, custodial authorities, and prosecutor offices to provide information to victims of crime through the criminal justice process. This program provides direct services that address the physical and emotional needs of crime victims and their families throughout the prosecution of criminal violent and non-violent misdemeanor cases. Advocates provide services to all types of crime victims from dating violence, family violence, sexual battery, theft, and traffic criminal cases.

Project Description
The VWAP’s mission is to minimize victimization throughout the process of reaching justice. Since its establishment, the program has successfully provided services to approximately 8,000 crime victims and their families. Since 1995, VWAP has established a proven track record of being beneficial to helping victims restore their lives after victimization while prosecuting cases aggressively. The victim advocate is part of trial teams, which consist of an assistant solicitor, an investigator, and a victim advocate. Existing services currently offered to victims free of charge are: explanation of criminal justice process, court room advocacy, explanation of victim rights, crisis intervention, and safety planning.

Agency Description
The Judges in the Juvenile Court hear all cases that come under its jurisdiction. This includes the arraignment, adjudication, and disposition hearings in matters of delinquency, unruliness, deprivation and traffic. Detention hearings, to determine whether or not a child must remain in the detention facility pending further court action, are another responsibility of the judges. The judges of the Juvenile Court are responsible for issuing all orders of the Court as well as bench warrants, pick-up orders, and ex parte orders.

In addition to these types of cases, the Juvenile Court Judges are called on to hear a variety of special proceedings cases. These cases involve special circumstances such as permission to marry, extensions of custody, waiver of parental notification of abortion, expungement of a person’s name from the state child abuse registry and the termination of parental rights.

Of these special proceedings, perhaps the most extreme is the termination of parental rights. These highly emotional and sensitive cases involve the severance of any and all relationship between a parent and a child, opening the door to the possible adoption of the child. During the year 2010 there were 33 cases that resulted in the termination of parental rights.

Project Description
The Clayton County CASA program, a division of the Clayton County Juvenile Court, provides essential, high quality advocacy, intervention and support to children who have been the victims of abuse and neglect in Clayton County, who are in the care and custody of relatives, or are involved in custody dispute cases.

Agency Description
The Victim Witness Unit (VWAP) provides services to victims of felony crimes in the Cobb County Superior Court and victims of juvenile complaints in the Cobb County Juvenile Court. The mission of the Unit is to meet the statutory requirements mandated of the office as outlined in the Georgia Crime Victims Bill of Rights. Such mandates include notification to all crime victims of court hearings and education about the stages involved in the criminal justice system. Staff advocates also strive to improve the treatment of victims and witnesses by providing them with assistance and services necessary to speed their recovery from a criminal act and to support and aid them as they move through an unfamiliar, complicated, and time consuming criminal justice system.
Project Description
The Victim Witness Unit supports the agency's overall victim assistance efforts as the Unit is the liaison and first line of contact for victims with the District Attorney's Office. On a continuous basis, staff advocates of the Victim Witness Unit provide ongoing services to innocent victims of felony crimes and victims in the Juvenile Court of Cobb County. The scope of its service delivery is mandated under Georgia Law (reference O.C.G.A. Title 17, Chapter 17, the Georgia Crime Victims Bill of Rights (CVBR)). These services are delivered to victims at different times and under differing circumstances depending on the activity and progression of that victim's case, the needs of the individual victim, and court calendars. The services provided by all staff advocates to all victims of felony crime and mandated under the CVBR include but are not limited to: Notification via written letter to the victim that a warrant was issued (criminal charges were filed against the perpetrator); Education and explanation of the stages, steps, procedures, and terminology involved in the criminal justice system including education about victims' rights under the law; Periodic status updates on the progression of the criminal case; Court accompaniment; Referrals to other service providers who can further assist victims with needs that the CJ system cannot meet; Assistance in completing Victim Impact and Restitution Forms: Assistance in completing and filing Victim Compensation Forms; Personal Advocacy; Providing a safe, secure place for victims to wait before testifying for court; Coordinating an on-call system for court appearances to aid victims and witnesses in avoiding lengthy or unnecessary absences from work or school; Providing assistance and support when the victim feels intimidated, threatened, harassed, or afraid via remedies provided through the Georgia State Law.

Agency Description
The Cordele Judicial Circuit District Attorney’s Office is a state government prosecution agency. The office prosecutes all misdemeanor and felony cases in Juvenile and Superior courts. The office also assists as needed in the local probate and magistrate courts. Located in rural southwest Georgia, the circuit includes the four counties of Ben Hill, Crisp, Dooly and Wilcox. The agency provides services to all victims of crime throughout the circuit and has continuously done so for sixteen years.

To better serve all victims the agency has two locations within the Circuit. The main office is located in Crisp County (Cordele, GA) and serves as the primary office for victims in Crisp and Dooly counties. A satellite office is located in Ben Hill County (Fitzgerald, GA) and serves as the primary office for victims in Ben Hill and Wilcox counties.

Project Description
Created in 1995, the Cordele Judicial Circuit Victim Witness Assistance Program (referred to hereafter as the VWAP) is a support unit within the District Attorney’s Office. The VWAP supplies the resources for the agency to provide comprehensive services to victims of crime as mandated by law. On a daily basis the VWAP provides direct services to crime victims which include but are not limited to crisis intervention, general advocacy, support during criminal justice investigation and post arrest, support services during prosecution, and support after case disposition.

The mission of the Cordele Judicial Circuit’s Victim Witness Assistance Program is to ensure that direct, appropriate and accessible services are made available to victims of crime. It is critical that information victims seek is disseminated and every effort is made to allow for safety, healing, justice and restitution. The VWAP strives to prevent crime victims from experiencing additional victimization, not only from the criminal justice system, but from the community as well. Staff ensures all victims of crime are notified of their statutory rights and informed of all available services to them. VWAP staff further assists victims in availing themselves of those services.

The VWAP is implemented by District Attorney Denise Fachini and is composed of two full time trained professional staff: Coordinator, Celanese Floyd and Advocate, Will McKee. Trained volunteers are also used by the VWAP to provide services to victims of crime. VWAP staff serves as the primary point of contact for victims as their case moves through the criminal justice system. VWAP staff also serves as an intricate part of the agency team by providing the District Attorney and Assistant District Attorneys with victims’ information, requests for restitution and victim impact statements prior to court appearances by the offender.

Agency Description
The Center for Pan Asian Community Services, Inc. (CPACS) is the first, largest and longest-standing service-providing agency focused on Asian Pacific Islanders (APIs) in the Southeast. CPACS, now in its 30th year, is a private non-profit organization whose mission is to create and deliver linguistically and culturally competent senior, health, and other services to immigrants, refugees, and racial-ethnic minorities at low to no-cost. CPACS is also nationally recognized as the leader for API research and policy work in the Southeast, and serves as a central referral and network source for national groups and local grass-roots organizations.

Project Description
CPACS helps women and their families live violence-free lives through comprehensive and linguistically appropriate services offered by the PAWER project (Pan Asian Women's Empowerment & Resources). PAWER’s mission is to eliminate violence against women by creating comprehensive services to educate, outreach and effectively empower Asian women, families and communities. PAWER accomplishes its mission by (1) providing safe shelter for domestic violence victims and families, (2) creating an environment where domestic violence is deemed unacceptable through community mobilization, education and outreach, (3) providing direct services that are linguistically and culturally appropriate for Asian victims of violence, and (4) collaborating with other organizations and individuals to end violence in Asian communities. All PAWER services are survivor centered, address the family unit, and link to long-term solutions for self-sufficiency.

Opened in the Spring of 2009, Hanna’s House is a comprehensive domestic violence shelter that provides safety, food, shelter, advocacy, and other resources to help women and children rebuild lives free from violence. Hanna’s House welcomes all survivors; however, the agency has the unique cultural and language capacity to meet the needs of Asian American immigrant and refugee survivors of violence. Hanna’s House is located in a three-bedroom house in Gwinnett County that is open 365 days per year and can accommodate up to three families at a time. Families are allowed to stay at the shelter for a maximum of three months so that they can receive the services they need to begin living independently and not be at risk for homelessness.

Agency Description

Children in juvenile court deprivation proceedings are federally mandated to have a guardian ad litem, an attorney, CASA or both, appointed to provide the court with information and recommendations regarding their best interests. CASA volunteers are able to provide individual advocacy and attention, objective and comprehensive information and a case for urgency for the children to whom they are appointed. DeKalb Court Appointed Special Advocates serve foster care children and their families to ensure both safety and permanency. Last calendar year, 87 CASA volunteers served deprived children between the ages of 0 to 18. FFY 2011-2012, the agency proposes to serve 111 children.

The CASA volunteer advocates for the best interests of children who are in foster care and who are under the protection of the DeKalb County Juvenile Court. CASA volunteers conduct comprehensive child and family assessments; provide legal advocacy, service coordination, and follow-up services to children in the custody of DeKalb County Department of Family and Children Services (DFCS). CASA volunteers participate in all judicial proceedings to the degree necessary to effectively advocate for the child; make specific recommendations to the court relating to the appropriateness and safety of the child’s placement and services necessary to address the child’s needs; and to explain the proceedings to the child, as appropriate.

CASA volunteers work to ensure that children remain safe while in foster care, receive necessary and appropriate services, experience fewer placement changes, maintain visitation with families, including siblings, and reach permanency in a timely manner. CASA volunteers ensure the court has first-hand, objective information to make decisions in the child’s best interests.

CASA volunteers often remain involved after termination of parental rights to provide support for finalized adoption and necessary services. CASA volunteers work to identify relatives who are fit and willing to serve as a temporary or permanent placement. CASA volunteers advocate for sibling placements, visitation and maintaining connections with families and communities. CASA volunteers work to connect relative caregivers with resources and services to promote stability.

CASA volunteers work with DFCS to ensure that families are involved in case planning and are aware of community resources, that children’s needs are met while in care and upon returning home, and that aftercare services are provided. CASA volunteers monitor court-ordered services and progress on the case plan.

Suite 700
Decatur, GA 30030
Project Director: Jill Reich    Email: jmreich@dekalbcountyga.gov
Authorized Official: Burrell Ellis    Email: ceo@dekalbcountyga.gov

Agency Description
The District Attorney’s Office is the sole prosecutor of offenders of felony and juvenile crime in DeKalb County, Georgia. The District Attorney is a constitutional officer; therefore, the Office is a local government agency, though not under the direction of the County Officials. The staff manages criminal caseloads in 10 Superior Court and 4 Juvenile Court courtrooms through Assistant District Attorneys, Investigators, Victim Advocates, Secretaries, Paralegals, and support and executive personnel. The Office has specialized units within the structure to process sensitive and/or complicated cases such as: domestic violence and sexual assault, white collar and severe elder abuse, crimes against children, homicide, gang, public integrity, and cold cases.

In 1993, the District Attorney’s Office established a Victim Witness Assistance Program (VWAP) with a Victims of Crime Act (VOCA) grant to help victims of felony crime. Since the VWAP was established, it has become a separate discipline within the Office with the primary purpose of outreach to victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, family members of homicide, elder abuse, and crimes against children. The VWAP has a staff of 9 Victim Advocates dedicated solely to the purpose of victim services, in addition to a Director who serves as an executive manager and advises the District Attorney on all victim matters in order to set policy for the Office.

Project Description
The mission of the VWAP in the Office of the District Attorney is to provide comprehensive and effective advocacy services to victims of felony crime in DeKalb County. As the only VWAP within the criminal justice system for victims of felony crime, our legislative, professional, and ethical role is to establish and maintain a valuable and necessary link for victims of all crime in the community, and specialized community service providers, to the criminal justice system. The official role of the Victim Advocate in any office is as the voice of the victim. The Advocacy role is neither a primary nor preliminary fact finder. The purpose of victim advocacy is to promote the relationship between the system and a victim of crime and ease the victim through the process ensuring that all resources, remedies and rights are available.

The depth of experience and knowledge of the VWAP staff is considerable. Collectively, the VWAP staff has over 105 years in victim services, 134 years in social service fields, 12 college degrees, 70 years in service to the citizens of DeKalb County and of those, 55 years in the District Attorney’s Office.
Because of the high volume of cases and limited resources in the VWAP, the structure of the Program in Superior Court is designed to provide graduated services based on crime type and the expected level of trauma and/or danger to the victim:

Level 1 service is the VWAP’s Basic Level of service and is driven by the Crime Victim Bill of Rights. This service includes identification and location of the victim, information about the criminal justice process, who to contact in the Office, what to expect, information and applications for restitution and Victim Compensation, information about Victim Impact Statements and how to give their opinion on the case, information about the Victim Information and Notification Everyday (VINE) system in the jail, general referrals, notification of court hearings (whenever possible), and what their rights are under the law. The crime types typically having victims receive this service are non-violent in nature (i.e., shoplifting, thefts, fraud, and property crimes).

Level 2 services include all Level 1 services and all Level 3 services on an as needed basis. This is the Referral Level of services because victims are referred to the VWAP through any party to the case, an outside community or government agency, or are a self-referral. Victims of these crime types typically receiving this service have suffered a more violent crime in nature (i.e., armed robbery, burglary, aggravated assaults, etc.). The agency has recently started a pilot project to identify victims with physical injuries (serious injury by vehicle, aggravated battery, etc.) or severe emotional trauma (home invasion burglary) at our intake stage and offer Level 3 services. It is referring to these victims at Elevated Level 2 victim.

Level 3 services include all Level 1 services and it is considered the Outreach Level. This level is where the VWAP concentrates most of its resources. The victims of these crime types are typically in the most danger and/or experienced the most severe and long lasting trauma from the crime committed against them. The crime types with victims receiving service at this level are domestic violence, sexual assault, elder abuse, crimes against children, and family members of homicide victims. The difference between Level 2 and Level 3 services is that the outreach is made by the Program to the victim to start building a relationship and offer services. The services provided to victims of Level 3 (sexual assault, domestic violence, elder abuse, non-offending guardians and children of child abuse, and family members of murdered victims) are targeted at 1) stabilizing the immediate environment, 2) providing information and avenues for increased safety, 3) assessing physical and emotional needs to coordinate any necessary services, and 4) guiding them through the criminal justice system with general information, case specific details, and opportunities to express their opinions. The victim advocates provide on-going crisis management with their Level 3 victims and try to maintain their relationship throughout the criminal justice process.

Agency Description
The Office of the DeKalb County Solicitor-General is a government agency that prosecutes misdemeanor crimes in DeKalb County.

Project Description
The Victim/Witness Assistance Program is a part of the Special Victims Unit (SVU) and consists of the Coordinator and five Victim Advocates. The advocates primarily assist victim/witnesses of domestic violence but help victims of other crimes as well. Non-domestic violence assaults, vehicular homicides, child abuse, elder abuse, sexual battery, stalking or any case in which the victim is injured or emotionally impacted by the crime.

Three advocates are assigned to two courtrooms each. One advocate is assigned to one courtroom, W.A.T.C.H. hearings and oversees the survey process. The 5th advocate handles elder/disabled, child abuse, non-DV stalking and vehicular homicide cases. The advocates rotate attending the TPO hearings on Tuesday and Wednesday of each week in Magistrate Court and other duties. The assigned advocates are part of the prosecution team and liaison between the victim and the prosecutor. The Coordinator supervises the victim advocates, manages the grants and provides direct service to victims.

The advocates conduct needs assessments, address safety, notify of court hearings, educate on the basics of the criminal justice system, provide court accompaniment, assist with victim compensation application/restitution, provide referrals for other needed services and other duties.

In September 2010 a new program called VALARI Safety Action Plan (VSAP) started in DeKalb County in which volunteers and the victim advocates respond to Emory Hospital or the residence to assist abuse victims 65 years of age and over. After a forensic examination and assessment, if needed, Emory will provide a room in one of their facilities for up to 30 days until other arrangements can be made.

Agency Description
Guided by the wisdom and values of our tradition, Jewish Family & Career Services (JF&CS) provides health, career and human services to support and enhance the well-being of individuals and families across all ages, faiths, cultures and lifestyles. JF&CS began in 1890 as a refugee-service agency and was incorporated as a nonprofit 501(c)(3) in 1982. In 1997 the agency merged with Jewish Vocational Services creating Jewish Family & Career Services, Inc. Since its inception, JF&CS has continued to serve as a community leader, striving to design and implement new programs where gaps in services are discovered, expanding existing programs and collaborating extensively with public and private agencies to develop a seamless continuum of care for clients in need.

JF&CS provides non-sectarian health, career and human services to increase self-sufficiency, improve health, and foster community engagement to approximately 30,000 Atlanta individuals and families annually. To achieve these outcomes JF&CS provides programs and services through five divisions, including Career and International Services, Older Adult Services, Developmental Disabilities Services, Counseling Services, and Specialty Services, including our Ben Massell Dental Clinic.

The proposed project aligns with its mission of offering hope and personal and practical support to Atlanta-area individuals and families in need. In fact, working to strengthen families and assist clients in achieving stability and self-sufficiency is common among most of the agency programs. Recognizing that it can not do this work alone, the provision of community referrals, outreach and education is essential to achieving this goal.

Project Description
Shalom Bayit or “Peace in the Home”, the Jewish Family & Career Services victim assistance program, has worked since 1993 to prevent and intervene in violence against women and children in Atlanta. Although the program serves women from a diversity of races, religions and national origins, it is the only non-shelter, culturally-specific resource for abused women in the Atlanta Jewish Community and the only program in Georgia that addresses the specific needs of Jewish victims of domestic violence.
The program delivers essential direct services such as individual and group counseling, safety planning, goal setting and advocacy that give women tools to bring safety into their lives. Shalom Bayit also provides community education to raise and/or maintain community awareness of the prevalence and dynamics of domestic violence. The program is housed within our agency Counseling Services Division and represents one of the counseling services it provides for adults and children. While it is a stand-alone program, Shalom Bayit often collaborates with other agency units such as the Career Services Division to best meet client needs.

P.O. Box 501
Conley, GA 30288
Project Director: Mary Winfrey  Email: vmwinfrey@yahoo.com
Authorized Official: Erik Dowdy  Email: Safe_h@yahoo.com

Agency Description
Safe Haven Transitional, Inc. is a non-profit organization that has been in existence since September 1994 providing services for victims of domestic violence who live in the Atlanta metropolitan areas. The nature and extent of the program has been recognized after providing these services for 17 years mostly with a volunteer staff. This program is the next step in addressing intervention for women and their children displaced because of domestic violence. Women leaving a 30-day shelter in most cases are not equipped or able to make the transition to a non-violent safe environment.

The agency’s mission is to provide longer term housing with emergency and regular supportive services to women and children who have become homeless due to domestic violence, and to break the intergenerational cycle of abuse in the lives of children. Agency staff equip victims with tools and resources that will enable them to become and remain healthy independent and self-sufficient people.

The program has helped thousands of women and children who have been victimized though domestic violence. It provides the following supportive services: Longer-term Housing (2 step phase program; 6 months to two years), Support Groups, Legal Advocacy, Individual Counseling, Nutrition and Parenting Classes, Transportation, Referral Services, Community Education, One-on-One Sessions, Childcare, Employment assistance, Educational Tutoring, Anger Management, Conflict/Resolution training, mentoring, life skills, children’s activities and intervention program.

Dougherty

Dougherty County Board of Commissioners
Agency Type: Victim Witness Assistance Program - Prosecution

VOCA-Funded Staff Language(s): English

P.O. Box 1827
Albany, GA 31702
Agency Description
The Dougherty County District Attorney’s Victim Witness Assistance Program is a multi-component program which is located in the Dougherty County Courthouse. The Dougherty County VWAP may be reached by phone during office hours at 229-438-3985 and at any time through the crisis Line at 229-432-8181. The Dougherty Judicial Circuit’s District Attorney, 14 Assistant District Attorneys, 8 Investigators and 16 secretarial staff members work to prosecute criminal offenders in Superior, State and Juvenile Courts.

Victim Advocates serve all victims of criminal offenses in Dougherty County. The VWAP personnel include a Director who also serves as the Specialized Violent Felony Victim Advocate and three full-time Victim Advocates. The VWAP serves victims of felony offenses in Superior Court including victims whose cases are transferred to Federal Court, victims of misdemeanor offenses in State Court and victims of juvenile offenders in Juvenile Court. All VOCA funded Victim Advocates are trained and authorized by the court to assist victims of domestic violence when they seek a civil filing of a Temporary Protective Order.

Most victims begin receiving services after the arrest of the offender when they receive victim contact letters. New victims may also include those whose offenders have not been arrested, who call or walk into the VWAP office seeking services.

Project Description
The District Attorney’s Victim Witness Assistance Program’s four Victim Advocates and volunteers serve victims from all three court divisions. As a team effort, information about the defendant’s case status and victim information is shared within the office. Victim Advocates make initial contact with most of their victims after they receive arrest warrant copies. Victim Advocates produce contact letters, which make up part of the victim notification packages, and notification letters.

Within the District Attorney’s Office, Victim Advocates’ sole purpose is to respond to the emotional and physical needs of crime victims; assist primary and secondary victims of crime to stabilize their lives after victimization; help victims understand and participate in the criminal justice system and provide victims of crime with a measure of safety and security. They also act to convey information between victims and their prosecutor or help set up appointments for them with the prosecutor. Victim Advocates offer referrals, help fill out papers, comfort and support during and after the judicial process. All Victim Advocates are trained and authorized by the court to assist victims of domestic violence when they seek a civil filing of a Temporary Protective Order.

The VWAP works in collaboration with non-profit organizations such as Lily Pad, Inc., a sexual assault and children’s advocacy center, Liberty House, Inc., a battered women’s shelter, and Open Arms, Inc., a homeless shelter for children up to 18 years of age, to provide comprehensive, specialized services to victims. All Victim Advocates are now able to better assist victims of violent crime whose language is Spanish and are considered “previously underserved” through a new collaborative effort with the Haven of Hope. The Haven of Hope is a local safe house/shelter for mainly Latino domestic violence victims and Latino victims of child abuse. The Haven of Hope Director acts as translator/interpreter for Latino victims when needed. By working together within a changing community, Victim Advocates and their collaborative partners strive to break language and cultural barriers. The result is that more underserved victims are being served through greater understanding and participation in our criminal justice system and are then able to receive services available which respond to their emotional and physical needs and provide them with a greater measure of safety and security.

P.O. Box 467
Albany, GA 31702
Project Director: Karen Kemp  Email: kemps97@bellsouth.net
Authorized Official: Amy Boney  Email: amy.lilypad@gmail.com

Agency Description
The Lily Pad, Inc is a multiple component agency comprised of the following:

The Firefly House Children’s Advocacy Center opened its’ doors in June of 2008. It’s services are provided to children and families in Dougherty, Lee, Sumter, Schley, Macon, Webster and Stewart counties. It provides forensic interviews for all abuse cases (including physical and sexual abuse, extreme neglect and witness to violent crimes including homicide and sexual assault) and organizes the agenda for the Multi-Disciplinary Team meetings. Firefly House CAC has served over 1,000 children since June 2008.

The Dougherty County Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA) program offers staff and volunteers that are screened, trained and skilled individuals who advocate pursuant to Juvenile Court assignment for victims of child abuse (physical, sexual and emotional), Neglect (medical and educational), and other types of deprivation. The responsibilities of the CASA volunteers is to carry out objective examinations of case situations, to ensure facilitation and collaboration between all parties involved in the case, to make recommendations to Juvenile Court that are in the child’s best interest and to monitor whether Juvenile Court orders and child protection services agency plans promote safety, permanency and well-being outcomes for child victims of abuse and neglect.

The Bob Boren Center encompasses the SANE (Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner’s) Program which exclusively conducts all of the medical/evidentiary exams for children and adults who have been sexually assaulted in a 25 county area in southwest Georgia. In a year these nurses provided care to over 180 victims of sexual assault/abuse. These specially trained nurses provide free exams to victims, evidence collection for law enforcement (biologic and photographic) and expert testimony for victims in court. SANEs also offer free follow up exams for purposes of comparison (acute exam to follow up) and STI (sexually transmitted infection) testing for those at risk. By having the SANE program housed in conjunction with the Firefly House saves the victims of sexual assault and child sexual abuse the inconvenience of traveling to multiple locations to receive services making the Lily Pad one of very few centers in the State to have both interviewing and medical services in a single location.

The Boren Center also encompasses the Rape Crisis Program which offers a 24 hour crisis hotline for all victims of sexual assault. When a rape victim calls our hotline, they are met with a compassionate, well trained volunteer that offers crisis counseling. When law enforcement contacts a SANE nurse for a rape exam, a rape crisis volunteer is dispatched as well to the Lily Pad to comfort the victim and accompany them through the process of the law enforcement interview and the forensic medical exam. The volunteer is also available to the victim for court accompaniment. The Rape Crisis program has expanded its’ services to accompany adolescent sexual assault victims when law enforcement brings them to the Lily Pad after business hours. The volunteers are also dispatched to the Lily Pad when a large sibling group is brought in after hours for a forensic interview to volunteer time and combine efforts in making everyone comfortable, intervene in crisis situations, provide information and referrals for the family and allow for the forensic interview process to run smoothly. This program is driven fully by a very dedicated volunteer group.

The Douglas County District Attorney’s Office is the government agency that prosecutes all felony cases in Douglas County. As a part of a legal mandate, the Douglas County District Attorney’s Office must provide victim assistance to any citizen who has suffered physical, sexual, financial, or emotional harm as a result of the commission of a felony crime in Douglas County. Therefore, the Douglas County District Attorney’s Office established a Victim-Witness Assistance Program in 1995 and has received VOCA funding every year since.

Project Description
While the main function of the Douglas County District Attorney’s Office is to prosecute defendants in felony cases, meeting the needs of crime victims continues to remain a top priority. The advocacy offered by the Victim Witness Assistance Program enables prosecutors to concentrate on the disposition of their cases knowing that victims and witnesses needs are being met. Victim Advocates provide numerous crucial services to crime victims in Douglas County including notification of rights, case status updates, court accompaniment, counseling referrals, and assistance with Crime Victims Compensation Applications and Restitution Requests.

678-715-1197-Administration

Project Description
The Douglas County Victims Assistance Programs were developed to satisfy requests for services and relief from abuse that were not provided by any other victim agency in this county, such as sexual assault and/or stalking; victims of domestic violence who are seeking relief through the court system and found they did not qualify for the services through the one other victim service agency in the area that provided assistance with TPO’s. In addition, there were also victims where law enforcement has responded to their homes and it found they were not aware of the services and resources available to them. There is a large under-reported and underserved population of immigrants in our county who are living with abuse and fear due to language barriers, temporary or illegal status and other situations that cause fear of seeking assistance; and victims of crimes where no services are available, i.e., sexual assault including rape and those seeking protection and relief from stalking, and the victims who for one reason or another have been told they do not qualify for the TPO assistance through the local battered women’s shelters. Other populations these new programs will serve are those who are or feel isolated from services due to race, culture, age and other special needs. The Douglas County Victim Assistance Programs work in tandem to fulfill the mission of DCTF in keeping victims from falling through the cracks.

The mission of the Northern Circuit Victim-Witness Assistance Program (VWAP) is to provide quality and compassionate assistance to victims and witnesses of crime in Madison, Franklin, Hart, Oglethorpe and Elbert counties who are involved with the criminal justice system at the Superior Court level. To accomplish this mission, the Program is staffed by two full-time professional advocates and utilizes the support of local volunteers. The VWAP assists approximately 4000 clients a year.
The Victim-Witness Assistance Program provides a variety of services designed to meet the needs of crime victims, witnesses and their families. Notification of court proceedings as well as explanations of and information about the criminal justice system are made available. Members of its staff also provide clients with an orientation to the courtroom setting, assistance in compensation, restitution, protective orders, victim impact statements and can make referrals to community agencies when necessary.

Project Description
The Northern Circuit District Attorney's Office and the Northern Circuit Victim-Witness Assistance Program provides services and support to victims of crime.

Under the "Victims Bill of Rights," the District Attorney's Office is required to provide notification and other basic services to crime victims. Prosecutors are responsible for informing victims of all court dates as well as the status of a case from the time of arrest to final disposition. Some victims are also entitled to compensation. Through this Program, the office ensures that victims are aware that compensation may be available to them and that they receive the assistance they need to apply.

As a division of the District Attorney's Office, the Victim-Witness Program plays a major role in the ability to prosecute crime, seek justice for victims and advocate for the rights of victims and witnesses. The VWAPs advocates are committed to providing the support needed to help them navigate through oftentimes complex legal procedures and court processes.

Agency Description
The Northwest Georgia Child Advocacy Center, d/b/a Harbor House, serves as a neutral facility in which sexual and severe child physical abuse cases brought to the attention of the police and the Department of Family and Children’s Services (DFCS) may be evaluated. Interviews are conducted by trained personnel, preventing children from having to talk about their trauma repeatedly to different agencies. Centralizing these services in a warm, home-like environment reduces the anxiety and confusion that may result from evaluating the child in multiple, sterile surroundings with fearful connotations (such as the hospital and police station). Harbor House also provides families with multi-disciplinary case review, crisis counseling, family advocacy support, referrals for services such as medical evaluation, counseling, support groups and any other needs. More than 4,700 children under the age of 18 have been served since the center opened in January 1995.

Project Description
As a Child Advocacy Center, the agency provides family advocate services to families as a means of follow up, working to connect them with the many excellent resources in the community. The agency also provides each crime victim family with Crime Victims Rights information, but refer them to the VOCA-funded Child Victim Advocate in the District Attorney’s Office to receive assistance completing the paperwork if needed. When families are here at our center, typically they are in crisis so the agency relies on the Child Advocates to assist them with the completion of paperwork at a later date. Its clinical staff work hand in hand with these advocates to make sure that the families are being served.

Agency Description
Atlanta Legal Aid helps low-income people meet basic needs through free civil legal services. It’s mission is “to deliver legal services and legal education designed to improve the social, political, and economic conditions of low-income persons; to serve as a catalyst for social change to benefit low-income persons; to prepare and furnish information to low-income persons about their rights so as to provide full benefit, enjoyment, and protection of their legal, economic, and social rights.” Founded in 1924 by 17 prominent local attorneys with a $600 grant from the Chamber of Commerce, Atlanta Legal Aid has meant access to justice for countless individuals marginalized by poverty. It is committed to helping clients meet some of life's most basic needs - a safe home, sufficient food, personal safety, a decent education, and protection against fraud. Last year, advocates handled more than 25,000 cases that affected over 50,000 people in Clayton, Cobb, DeKalb, Fulton and Gwinnett counties. While Atlanta Legal Aid does not have as its sole mission to serve victims of crime, it has done so for 30 years through our Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program. The agency has received funding from CJCC since 1996.

Project Description
The Atlanta Legal Aid Society's Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program investigates complaints and assists victims of abuse and neglect in long-term care facilities in the Atlanta metropolitan area. The project is responsible for monitoring the safety and well-being of the over 23,000 residents of the 1,067 nursing and personal care homes in the service area. The project has three primary components: complaint investigation, unannounced visits to nursing homes and personal care homes, and information and assistance.

Staff ombudsman, who are certified by the state after intensive training, prioritize complaints by severity, putting the highest priority on complaints of abuse and neglect. About 800 complaints of abuse and neglect are investigated annually, and almost 95% of them are resolved satisfactorily. In addition, the ombudsman frequently uncover severe cases of abuse and neglect through unannounced site visits; normally up to 250 instances of abuse and neglect are discovered on an annual basis.

The program is also a source of information for the community. In particular, it teaches community groups and residents themselves how to identify and report abuse and neglect in long-term care facilities. Ombudsmen also train facility staff on abuse and neglect issues critical to those caring for residents.

The work of the Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program allows the criminal justice system to discover and respond to crimes against resident victims in nursing homes and personal care homes. Without our involvement, many of these crimes would go undetected, since residents may not even know that they are victims of crime. Even when they know, they are often afraid or unable to complain, especially to the police, but are willing to confide in ombudsmen from our program who they know and trust. Ombudsmen work closely with other specialty units of the program to protect residents of such facilities.

Agency Description
The Office of the Fulton County District Attorney is charged with the prosecution of all felony violations of state law that occur within Fulton County. The District Attorney prosecutes all indictable offenses as well as those that may be charged by accusation and litigates these offenses in both the trial and appellate courts of the State of Georgia. In order to execute these responsibilities as well as the other District Attorney duties required by state law, the office retains a staff of attorneys, investigators, victim advocates and administrative personnel.

Project Description
The mission of the Victim-Witness Assistance Program is to provide quality and compassionate assistance to victims of and witnesses to felony crimes that have occurred in Fulton County as well as all crimes committed by juveniles. To accomplish this mission, the Program is staffed by professional advocates and counselors and utilizes the services of interns from local colleges and universities. The program assists approximately 10,000 clients a year.

Under the "Victims Bill of Rights", the District Attorney's Office is required to provide notification and other basic services to crime victims. Prosecutors are responsible for informing victims of all court dates as well as the status of a case from the time of initial charging decision to final disposition. Some victims are also entitled to compensation. Through this program, the office ensures that victims are aware that compensation may be available to them and assist victims with the application and application process.

The Victim-Witness Assistance Program provides a variety of services designed to meet the needs of crime victims, witnesses and their families. Case information as well as explanations of and information about the criminal justice system are made available. Members of the staff also provide clients with an orientation to the courtroom setting and assist in the development of victim impact statements. The staff also provides short-term counseling and referrals to community agencies when long-term therapy is needed.

Agency Description
The Juvenile Justice Fund is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization founded in 2001 with a mission "to help children in Atlanta's juvenile justice system recover from the damage of abuse, exploitation, a fractured home life or no home at all." The agency believes all children should have the opportunity to thrive and develop into healthy adults and it is committed to creating healthy and strong families. "All Children Always Matter" is the driving force behind all of its programs, which are specifically focused on ending the abuse of children by making sure they do not become victims of commercial sexual exploitation (child sex trafficking) through our CEASE Program and "A Future. Not a Past" and unifying families through our Family Visitation Program and "Project Ready, Set, Go!" The Fund is devoted to the community and offers direct services to more than 850 disadvantaged children and their families annually, as well as training and assistance for more than 2,000 professional service providers throughout metro Atlanta and the greater Fulton County area.

Project Description
The Center to End Adolescent Sexual Exploitation (CEASE) Program, begun in 2001, worked directly with girls coming through the Fulton County Juvenile Court who were either victims of commercial sexual exploitation (sex trafficking), or were at high risk of being victimized. Today, CEASE works directly with the latter group of girls—those child abuse victims that are deemed high risk for being victimized by commercial sexual exploitation and display other red flag indicators. Given that almost 70 percent of those who end up being commercially sexually exploited are already victims of child abuse within their homes, CEASE specifically now works with these girls to deter involvement in commercial sexual exploitation. Coming through the Fulton County Juvenile Court for a variety of reasons, with a history of prior involvement with child protective services, truancy, and/or a history of running away, these girls become the focus of the CEASE Program's Voices Project. According to the National Incidence Studies of Missing, Abducted, Runaway and Throwaway Children, one out of every three teens will be lured toward prostitution within 48 hours of leaving home, so early intervention ensures that these girls will not be further victimized.

The CEASE Program's Voices Project is a healthy and holistic program, delivering innovative, one-of-a-kind services to deter adolescents from early victimization and addresses key areas widely known to create vulnerabilities for the extreme abuse of commercial sexual exploitation. The three main goals of the CEASE Voices project are 1) to provide services to child abuse victims and other youth that have been deemed "high risk" for commercial sexual exploitation; 2) to increase and cultivate the talents and strengths of those victims; and 3) to encourage a healthy wellbeing lifestyle among participants designed to promote contribution to their community and preparation for future success.

While the Juvenile Justice Fund is not primarily a victim assistance agency, it is an agency that seeks to support those families and youth in contact with the court so as to reduce the chances of returning to the court for further supervision and/or punishment. In this infrastructure, the CEASE program is extremely beneficial and powerful to the Juvenile Justice Fund organization because it is focused on ensuring that young girls already victimized by child abuse do not continue down the abuse continuum and become victims of commercial sexual exploitation. The CEASE Program is managed by our CSEC team (working to end the Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children) who report directly to the Juvenile Justice Fund's Executive Director.

Agency Description
The Appalachian Children’s Center (ACC) serves male and female children, between the ages of 3 and 17, non-offending care givers and families, for whom allegations of maltreatment such as child abuse, physical abuse, sexual abuse, emotional abuse and/or neglect is suspected or claims substantiated. The mission of the ACC is to be an advocate for the safety of all children and to reduce the trauma of child abuse victims and their families. ACC primarily serves children in the Appalachian Judicial Circuit (Fannin, Gilmer and Pickens Counties), a rural area approximately 80 miles north of Atlanta.

Project Description
The ACC provides victim assistance programming within the overall framework of the organization. As a child advocacy center, the goal is to ensure that children are supported from victimization through prosecution. The ACC provides immediate support and assistance to child victims and their families that may include crisis intervention, follow up services, information/referral, and criminal justice support and advocacy. The ACC also provides individual therapy, group, parenting classes, assessments, and longer-term support to these children and care givers/families.

The ACC works closely with the prosecution-based, victim-witness assistance program in the Appalachian Judicial District. When necessary, it assists in filling out victim's compensation paperwork, as well as other necessary support, as requested from the office of victim services.

The ACC facilitates a collaborative approach to victim assistance. In order to best serve victims, it coordinates with other agencies, such as Law Enforcement, The Department of Family and Children's Services, the District Attorney's Office, and the North Georgia Mountain Crisis Network. This framework provides the best chance to the child and family for healing, growth, and stability.

Agency Description
Golden Isles Children’s Center, Inc. (GICC) is a Child Advocacy Center and Rape Crisis Center serving the Brunswick Judicial Circuit which includes Appling, Camden, Glynn, Jeff Davis and Wayne Counties, as well as neighboring McIntosh, Brantley and Long Counties. GICC meets state and national standards of the multi-disciplinary team approach to child abuse. GICC collaborates with child protective services, law enforcement, prosecution, medical services, mental health services, school social services, juvenile justice, and/or probation to put the needs of the victims of abuse and their families who have been referred by DFCS and/or law enforcement; and prevention services to the community-at-large.

Project Description
GICC anticipates serving 200 families/ 600 individuals. Historical client data reveals that many of the families served are victims of an entrenched, intergenerational culture of violence and family dysfunction. The mission of the project of GICC is to utilize crisis intervention, therapeutic services, victim advocacy, information and referral, community education, publicity and prevention initiatives, community and agency collaboration, specialized medical services, and specialized investigative services in an effort to serve child and adult victims of sexual abuse and/or assault and/or physical abuse. These tools are used in an effort to stabilize the lives of the victims and their families through physical and emotional healing, the return of healthy individual and family functioning and assistance with and through the judicial process.

The GICC service design is solution-based therapy which gives primary therapeutic attention to developing a picture of the “solution” and discovering the resources to achieve it. On average, our model encompasses five to eight sessions with the goal of helping the client to achieve a healthy satisfying life building on existing individual/family strengths, increasing the stability of the family, increasing parental confidence and enhancing overall family functioning to prevent child abuse and neglect. Solution focused therapy has proven highly effective. Although solution focused therapy is a treatment in its own right, it can also be used to complement other service modalities and is built into all GICC services (support groups, parent education, substance abuse, parenting and marriage therapy).

Agency Description
Safe Harbor Children's Center opened in 1991 after shelter founders Susan and Bob Hamer discovered that youth from the area had no place to go for help. More than 3300 youth have stayed at Safe Harbor since it was organized. Safe Harbor receives calls from many neighboring counties, lending credence that the center is the runaway shelter of choice for young people. Safe Harbor is licensed by the State of Georgia to operate a long-term child caring institution (CCI) consisting of 18 beds. The Center is a member of the Georgia Association of Homes and Services for Children which provides access to other center beds across the state. Community volunteers serve on the Board of directors which meets on a monthly basis to set policy and oversee the Executive Director. The Safe Harbor Auxiliary was formed in 1992 to operate as a volunteer branch of the agency, working to raise funding from the community. Staff currently consists of an Executive Director, Assistant Director, eight full-time residential treatment workers, eleven part-time residential treatment workers, full-time administrative assistant, three part time therapists, a full-time community outreach coordinator, one full time street outreach worker, two part-time outreach workers, and student interns.

Project Description
Runaway youth are most often crime victims. Of the youth seen at Safe Harbor Children's Center, approximately 60 per cent have been abused in some form - either sexually, mentally, physically, or emotionally neglected.

Agency Description
Founded in 1984, the Children’s Center for Hope and Healing provides no-cost counseling for children—boys and girls, ages 3 to 17, and their families—who have been the victims of sexual abuse as well as counseling for women who are adult survivors of childhood sexual abuse. The center’s mission is to restore dignity, trust, and hope to individuals and families traumatized by child sexual abuse through accessible and effective therapy, advocacy, and education. The center provides a safe and caring environment for families to heal through offices in Gainesville, Cumming, Demorest, and Winder. Through a separate program, not funded by VOCA, the agency also provides treatment to children and adolescents with sexual behavior problems. This program, called Project Pathfinder, is also victim-centric, focusing on victim empathy, accepting personal responsibility for actions, and on making restitution. Because of the two programs, the agency is uniquely positioned to facilitate family reunification when reunification is in the best interest of the victim. Agency Description
The Northeastern Judicial Office of the District Attorney is a local government agency responsible for the prosecution of felony and misdemeanor cases in this circuit. The Victim Assistance Program serves all types of crime victims of both misdemeanor and felony offenses to include crimes against persons and property. Advocates of the Victim Assistance Program work closely with prosecutors and investigators to prosecute criminal cases and ensure that victim’s rights are protected as statutorily required. Advocates also refer victims to community services such as counselors or other advocates who specialize in assisting victims based on the specific crime committed against them.

Project Description
Staff in the Hall and Dawson District Attorney's Offices are divided into trial teams. Each trial team handles a caseload that is randomly assigned. The trial teams prosecute criminal cases in Superior and Juvenile Courts. Each trial team consists of one Victim Advocate, one Investigator, one Legal Assistant, and two to three prosecutors. The Victim Advocates are responsible for providing services to victims of crimes that are statutorily mandated by the Crime Victim's Bill of Rights. Advocates also serve as the liaison between the crime victim and the prosecutors and investigators within the District Attorney's Office.

Agency Description
The Hall-Dawson Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) Program is a non-profit organization that provides free criminal justice representation and advocacy to children who are victims of physical, sexual, and emotional abuse and neglect. The CASA’s mission is to recruit, screen, train and supervise community volunteers to advocate and represent the best interest of abused children entering the juvenile courts of Hall and Dawson Counties.

The Child Abuse Protection and Treatment Act (CAPTA) is a federal law that requires a guardian ad litem (GAL) be appointed in all cases of child abuse or neglect. Trained CASA Volunteers are appointed by juvenile judges to fill this role. CASA is a national organization utilizing trained, screened, and supervised volunteers as lay guardian ad litem in court. CASA’s sole purpose is to provide services to child victims of abuse and neglect.

The CASA program works with juvenile court, local Departments of Family and Children Services, foster families, biological families and many community service providers with the goal of protecting the most vulnerable members of our society—our children. The agency’s goal is to ensure that children have the right to a safe and nurturing environment. The CASA program places a consistent focus on the child’s need for safety and permanency. It has been providing advocacy to child victims in Hall and Dawson for 21 years.

In 1990 with the inclusion of the CASA Program in the Victims of Child Abuse Act, Congress affirmed the use of volunteers in its otherwise closed juvenile court systems and made provisions for the growth of its volunteer movement nationwide. Interrupting the cycle of abuse is the focus of CASA. A safe, permanent home is the goal for each child. CASA is the only national organization of volunteer advocates who have been trained to speak as an independent voice in court for children’s best interest. The U.S. Department of Justice has recognized CASA as a model program, and views CASA as a safety net for abused and neglected children. The agency is also affiliated with Georgia CASA, the state organization in Atlanta.

Agency Description
Rape Response Inc. is a nonprofit agency with 24/7 services for female and male, adolescent and adult victims of sexual assault. The mission is to serve as a system of support, advocacy and education providing services to the community and to victims of sexual assault while safeguarding the dignity of each person served. The agency has been in existence for 22 years and serves five counties (Dawson, Habersham, Hall, Lumpkin and White).

Comprehensive services for victims, their families and the community include:

- 24-hour crisis hotline;
- Emergency room response and support;
- Short-term crisis intervention;
- Information and referrals for resources and services to support victim’s individual needs and situations;
- Aftercare health screenings and exams in collaboration with public health clinics;
- Court accompaniment for victims during legal proceedings and trial;
- Victim compensation assistance;
- Prevention education in middle school, high school and colleges, as funding allows.

Project Description
The primary goal of Rape Response, Inc. is the provision of comprehensive services to adolescent and adult victims of sexual violence in the five county service area. Rape Response recruits, trains, supervises and coordinates an average of 25 volunteers who respond to two hospitals in the service area when a victim presents for a forensic exam. A 24/7 crisis hotline is maintained that serves all of north Georgia and provides immediate crisis intervention for victims of sexual violence, as well as information and referrals to appropriate agencies. A website is also maintained for immediate online information and resources.

Comprehensive services include criminal justice accompaniment, personal advocacy, medical accompaniment, assistance filing victims comp, aftercare, crisis intervention, counseling referrals, emergency financial assistance and comfort items. The services Rape Response provides to victims allow the other disciplines to concentrate on the collection of forensic evidence, the investigation of the crime and apprehension and prosecution of the perpetrators.

Additionally, Rape Response serves as the liaison for updating and maintaining the Sexual Assault Protocol in each judicial circuit served by the program. Rape Response convenes educational seminars for professionals for the purpose of strengthening their education and understanding of areas of concern regarding sexual violence. Rape Response provides ongoing training for law enforcement, counselors, college staff, attorneys and community organizations. Rape Responses continues to develop strong relationships and collaborations with allied professionals in the five county service area that go beyond coordination of services. These relationships help Rape Response to provide the complete scope of services essential to the recovery and well-being of sexual assault survivors.

Agency Description
Located in Houston County, Georgia, Hodac, Inc. is an established, private non-profit organization whose mission is to extend a helping hand to make a difference in the lives it touches in Georgia through education, advocacy, prevention, and intervention. Hodac has been providing free and low-cost social services to the local, regional, and statewide community for 40 years. Since HODAC’s inception, the agency has grown into a multifaceted social services organization that operates three 24-hour helplines; a teen center that provides enrichment activities after school and during the summer; substance abuse and violence prevention for students and the community; substance abuse treatment and housing programs for women and their families; and a comprehensive victim services program. Hodac has an extensive history of adapting its Call Center to meet the evolving needs of the local and state community. Currently, Hodac’s Call Center houses three helplines, all of which are toll-free and operated by live staff 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. The services of the Governor’s Victim Assistance Helpline are overseen by Hodac administration and implemented directly by a team of 10 trained telephone information specialists. Services conform to all national and state standards for I & R services.
Project Description

Hodac has served victims of crime in some capacity since 1982, and, since 1993, this specific program, the Governor’s Victim Assistance Helpline, has utilized VOCA funds to serve victims of crime across the state of Georgia. The Helpline is the only information and referral service specifically for victim assistance in the state and regularly receives calls from all 159 counties. In Houston and Peach Counties, the Helpline also provides crisis intervention services for victims of domestic violence and sexual assault. The prevalence of crime, particularly violent crime, indicates a continued need for these services.

The Governor’s Victim Assistance Helpline aligns with Hodac’s mission by providing victims of crime in Georgia with an easily accessible source of education and intervention. Callers are educated about victims’ rights, victims’ compensation, and the variety of available victim assistance resources. Many Helpline referral resources offer intervention services to victims, ultimately assisting them in restoring health and stability. The Governor’s Victim Assistance Helpline is one of three helplines in Hodac’s Call Center, and the Call Center is one of five primary Hodac departments providing social services to the local, regional, and statewide communities. The Call Center serves close to 39,000 callers per year from all Georgia counties and all demographic categories.

The mission of Hodac’s Governor’s Victim Assistance Helpline is to promote increased health, safety, and knowledge in the lives of crime victims in Georgia by providing them with up-to-date information and referrals to victim resources in their geographic area, crisis intervention services, and information about the Georgia Victim Compensation Program.

In order to accomplish the goals and objectives delineated in the mission statement, Hodac and the Governor’s Victim Assistance Helpline plan to continue providing the same services that have assisted victims of crime in Georgia since receiving initial VOCA funding in 1993. Specifically, this program will provide every innocent crime victim in the state of Georgia and those concerned about such victims with one central, toll-free telephone number to call 24 hours a day, seven days a week for accurate, up-to-date information and resource referrals to direct victim assistance services in their geographic area; crisis intervention (Houston and Peach Counties only); and information about eligibility and the application process for the Georgia Victim Compensation Program.

When an individual dials the toll-free number to reach the Helpline, the call rings into one of nine incoming lines and is promptly answered by a trained telephone information specialist (TIS). Callers never reach a recording or voice-mail, as the phones are manned 24-hours per day, 7-days per week, including nights, weekends, and holidays. All calls are confidential, and if the caller desires, anonymity is respected.

The Helpline partners with Hodac’s Comprehensive Victim Services Program to provide crisis intervention services to victims of domestic violence and sexual assault in Houston and Peach Counties. Victim Services provides 24-hour hospital accompaniment to these victims at local medical facilities, and Helpline staff are responsible for dispatching Hodac staff and volunteer advocates when a victim presents at one of these locations.

Helpline staff members are also responsible for maintenance of the Iris 3.0 database that contains all call data and referral resources. This searchable database gives each TIS access to a network of 4,213 local and statewide social services agencies to which victims are referred, including 434 victim assistance providers. The database is stringently maintained to ensure that accurate, up-to-date, and comprehensive referrals and information are available to victims of crime at all times. All resources listed in the database are verified at least once a year on a predetermined schedule. When the Helpline learns of a program or service that is not in the database, research is conducted and a standardized “Agency Survey Questionnaire” is sent to the agency for completion. Upon receipt of a completed form, the information is added to the database.

The direct services of the Governor’s Victim Assistance Helpline conform to national and state standards for information and referral (I&R) services. In addition, Hodac is a member of GAIRS (Georgia Alliance for Information and Referral Specialists), and the provision of all I & R services in the Hodac Call Center fulfill the Standards for Professional Information and Referral. Helpline staff provide information to callers on a live, one-on-one basis; offer advocacy and crisis intervention services when necessary (i.e. assistance for individuals threatening suicide, local victims of sexual assault and domestic violence); and attempt to follow-up with all callers, with the exception of domestic violence victims.

Hodac has an extensive history of adapting its Comprehensive Victim Services Program to meet the evolving needs of the local community. Currently, the program offers hospital accompaniment, court advocacy, personal advocacy, support groups, and emotional support to Houston County victims, as well as activities, trainings, and events to educate victims and the general public about victimization and victims’ rights.

Project Description
Hodac’s involvement in victim services began in 1982 with the establishment of a crisis hotline and a volunteer rape crisis response team. In 1996, Hodac began receiving CJCC funding and 5% fine money from the Houston County Court System to provide a crime victim assistance program. Hodac’s Comprehensive Victim Services Program has evolved over the years and currently provides an extensive range of victim-centered services. This program fulfills the intervention component of the organization’s mission statement by mitigating the discomfort and lack of support that crime victims would no doubt experience without access to these services. As evidenced, Hodac has the experience and capacity to continue to serve as a community leader in providing much needed services to victims of crime in Houston County.

Over the past four calendar years, Hodac’s Comprehensive Victim Services Program has served an average of 2,424 victims of crime per year - 2,675 in 2007, 2,403 in 2008, 2,328 in 2009, and 2,289 in 2010. All victims of sexual assault and domestic violence are accompanied to the hospital for treatment and forensic exams and are provided with follow-up services; all victims of crimes that are going to State Court in Houston County are contacted and given the opportunity to receive advocacy and other needed services throughout the court process. All victims of crime served by Victim Services are referred to other community resources in order to provide a complete continuum of care. Personal advocacy and emotional support is offered to all victims throughout their involvement in the program, to include assistance dealing with landlords, lawyers, employers, law enforcement, and other entities.

The mission of Hodac’s Comprehensive Victim Services Program is to ensure that victims of crime in Houston County have a voice by promoting justice through court advocacy, facilitating access to community resources, offering personal advocacy and support, and educating victims and the community about victimization and victims’ rights. The goals of this program are to increase victims’ knowledge of and involvement in the court process; to promote feelings of emotional support and personal stability among victims during and after a crisis; to increase victims’ knowledge of safety issues and to encourage its incorporation into their daily lives; to heighten community awareness of victimization and victims’ rights; to train and utilize volunteers as advocates; to increase knowledge of victims’ rights, victimization, and the role of an advocate among those that interact with victims; to increase victims’ knowledge and utilization of victims’ rights; and to heighten victims’ awareness of available community resources and promote the usage of these resources.

From the onset of a traumatic event to the end of the court process and beyond, Victims Services works with victims of crime. Advocates provide reassurance and direction to victims by offering emotional support and knowledgeable guidance. All services are available in both English and Spanish to maximize access to all victims.

Agency Description

Rainbow House Children’s Resource Center, a local, non-profit organization, has been responding to allegations and working to reduce the incidents of child abuse in Houston County, Georgia, since 1986. Today it continues to serve all children by strengthening the community’s response to child abuse and neglect through prevention, intervention and advocacy efforts. Rainbow House is one of forty child advocacy centers in Georgia and is accredited on both the state level through Children's Advocacy Centers of Georgia and nationally through the National Children’s Alliance. As a child advocacy center, Rainbow House implements the multidisciplinary approach to child abuse investigation and works collaboratively with Houston County Department of Family and Children's Services, the Juvenile Division of Houston County Sheriff, and Houston County District Attorney’s Office. It’s multidisciplinary team meets twice monthly to review child abuse cases to ensure both appropriate responses and coordination among team members as well as to minimize gaps in services; overall reducing the traumatization of child abuse victims. This comprehensive approach to child abuse sets this agency apart from other victim services agencies.

Rainbow House’s Prevention Programs, begun as a chartered council of Prevent Child Abuse Georgia, offer a variety of educational opportunities to include children and adults. The agency stands behind the idea that you can’t stop what you don’t know and seeks to educate the community about the impact of child abuse and how prevent it from happening before it starts. Currently the prevention programs focus on family support and education. Rainbow House believes that by creating healthier families it will reduce the incidents of child abuse and neglect in their county.

Project Description

The Child Advocacy Center (CAC) works with the Houston County multidisciplinary team to offer services to child victims and their family at onset of referral to our agency. The victim advocacy program offers families: a better understanding of the criminal justice system, a feeling of support with the forensic process and the criminal justice system, a better understanding of crime victims rights and how to implement and access those rights, a better ability to cope with the situation, a better understanding of the child abuse dynamics, a better understanding of how to protect themselves and their children in the future, educational materials to prevent further victimization, and knowledge of and access to community resources. Additionally, its victim advocacy program provides advocates to act as the voice of the child who can not speak for him/herself.

Dublin, GA 31040
Project Director: Sherri Howard Email: tlccasa@bellsouth.net
Authorized Official: Ellen Sumner Email: esumner@farmersfurniture.com

Agency Description
The Laurens County Court Appointed Special Advocate Program (TLC CASA) is a 501(c)(3) non-profit agency that serves victims of child abuse. It’s mission is to advocate for the best interests of child abuse victims, provide legal advocacy and support for these victims, and provide additional ancillary support services to victims of child abuse. The agency’s program offers parenting education, supervised visitation centers, and drug screen testing as additional services available for child victims and/or their families. CASA Volunteer Advocates, all of whom are carefully screened, trained, and supervised, are assigned to child victims. The CASA remains involved with the child throughout the time he is the subject of deprivation court proceedings, focuses all service providers on the child's urgent need for permanency, ensures appropriate referrals are made and all needed services are received, and presents the child's best interests and his/her wishes at all court hearings and meetings convened to discuss the child’s situation, placement, and permanency plan. The program began providing services to victims of child abuse in 1995 in Laurens County. Currently CASA serves child victims in 15 counties, all of which are located in middle Georgia in the Dublin Judicial Circuit, Middle Judicial Circuit, and Oconee Judicial Circuit. TLC CASA is a member of the National CASA Association, Georgia CASA, Heart of Georgia United Way, and Toombs/Montgomery/Wheeler United Way.

PO Box 8277
Dublin, GA 31040
Project Director: Heather Mullis Email: wingsed@bellsouth.net
Authorized Official: William Smith Email: spivens5@bellsouth.net

Agency Description
Established in 1991, Women In Need of God's Shelter, Inc. supports women and children in their efforts to live violence-free by providing professional and compassionate services. This support includes providing safe shelter and advocacy for victims within the community; empowering victims to gain self-sufficiency; as well as the provision of education for victims and the community regarding domestic violence and sexual assault.

WINGS is a state-certified shelter that provides a range of services including a twenty-four hour crisis line, weekly support groups, legal advocacy, and monthly family activities for our primarily rural six-county service area (Laurens, Bleckley, Dodge, Johnson, Telfair, Wilcox).

The goal of WINGS’ services is to empower women to make their own decisions regarding their lives. It provides information, encouragement, and support with the intention of enabling victims to provide a safe and stable environment for themselves and their children.

In addition to providing direct services for victims, WINGS also advocates for increased awareness and positive changes in public attitudes, so that the community will become more receptive to the needs of victims as well as intolerant of abuse.

Agency Description
Lumpkin County was officially established by the State of Georgia in 1832 and is located approximately an hour’s drive north of the City of Atlanta in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains of North Georgia. The Lumpkin County Sheriff’s Office is a unit of the local government and serves as the sole provider of law enforcement services for the entire county. The County’s Comprehensive Victim Services Program is operated by the Lumpkin County Sheriff’s Office.

Project Description
Lumpkin County’s Comprehensive Victim Services Program was created in October 2005. The goal of the program is to provide crime victims with the assistance required to overcome their victimization by moving from “victim” to “survivor.” This goal is accomplished by providing crime victims with knowledge of victims’ rights and available resources. Additionally, victims of crime will receive emotional support and other assistance to help reduce the trauma of victimization. The program provides services to victims of the following types of crime: child physical abuse, child sexual abuse, DUI/DWI crashes, domestic violence, adult sexual assault, elder abuse, adults molested as children, survivors of homicide victims, robbery, assault, identity theft, and burglary.

The program operates as part of the Lumpkin County Sheriff’s Office and has one paid staff member, the Victim Advocate/Coordinator. This position reports to the Support Services Division and is responsible for coordinating services to all victims of crime in Lumpkin County. The services provided include the following: performing an initial victim’s need assessment, crisis counseling, follow-up, referrals to community and other services such as court, hospital, and forensic interviews.

Agency Description
Alcovy CASA, Inc. is a 501(c)(3) non-profit agency that provides advocacy services to children who are adjudged abused or neglected in Walton and Newton County Juvenile Courts. The agency’s volunteer Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASAs) investigate and make recommendations to the courts as to the children’s best interests. The goal of this agency’s efforts is to find a safe and stable permanent placement for deprived children as soon as possible. In order to meet the requirements of the mission of Alcovy CASA, volunteers provide advocacy for 100% of the abused and neglected children in the counties whose Juvenile Courts CASA serves by advocating for the best interests of the children involved, services for their parents, and speedy resolutions to their cases.

Project Description
Alcovy CASA’s volunteer Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASAs) investigate allegations of child deprivation from the Juvenile Courts of both Newton and Walton Counties. Armed with a court order, the CASAs have access to DFCS records, medical, psychological, and educational records which allow them to develop an informed recommendation to the Court as to the best interests of the child. The CASA will coordinate efforts with local agencies before reporting to the court with a recommendation. Three primary concerns are:
• Safety of the child,
• Limit time in foster care, and
• Long-term permanency within a loving home.

Oconee

Oconee County Board of Commissioners
Agency Type: Victim Witness Assistance Program - Law Enforcement, Victim Witness Assistance Program - Prosecution

VOCA-Funded Staff Language(s): English
Agency Description
The District Attorney’s (DA’s) Office of the Western Judicial Circuit prosecutes the felony cases in Athens-Clarke County (ACC), the felony and misdemeanor cases in Oconee County, and all Juvenile Court cases in both counties. The Victim Assistance Program (VAP) of the DA’s office provides services in both ACC and Oconee County and consists of six Victim Advocates and one Coordinator. There is a Solicitor General’s (SG’s) Office that handles all misdemeanor cases in ACC only and has a separate VAP that handles the victims in those cases. The SG’s Office VAP has one Coordinator and one Victim Notification Clerk.

For the DA’s Office, a Victims of Crime Act (VOCA) grant currently funds a Victim Advocate position that works in the Oconee County Office and a percentage of another Advocate that is assigned to the Special Victims Unit (SVU). The agency has one Advocate assigned to each of the three Superior Court Judges for the ACC felony cases. The Superior and Juvenile Court Advocates handle all types of cases such as homicide, robbery, assault, DUI, and financial/identity theft, and elder abuse. The caseload in ACC is much greater than in Oconee County so one VOCA Advocate can cover for all three Judges in Oconee. Each Advocate is currently assisting and providing criminal justice support and advocacy for approximately 300 victims per year and the number of new cases coming in only continues to rise. All together it’s VAP provides services to an average of 1,800 victims per year in Superior Court. The DA’s Office is also responsible for Juvenile Court in both counties which receives around 1,000 cases per year total and the VAP assists the victims in those cases as well.

In 2006, the VAP was able to begin responding to homicides to assist law enforcement personnel with family members that are at the scenes. The Advocates are on-call 24 hours a day/seven days a week and available for response. The VAP also responds to local hospitals for serious injury cases such as shootings or stabblings. This year the program has started assisting the Traffic Unit at ACCPD with vehicular homicides cases as well.

Project Description
The Victim Assistance Program of the District Attorney’s Office in the Western Judicial Circuit strives to give individual attention and victim services to each victim in spite of the vast number of cases received. The agency’s goal is to provide services to felony victims in Athens-Clarke County, misdemeanor and felony victims in Oconee County and victims of juvenile offenders in both counties. An Advocate will be assigned to each Judge and be a part of that courtroom prosecution team along with the two Assistant District Attorneys and Investigator. The Special Victims Unit Advocate will work with the Special Victims Unit team and assist victims of Sexual Assault and Domestic Violence which is a priority area for VOCA and VAWA. The Juvenile Court Advocate will work with victims of juvenile offenders in both Athens-Clarke and Oconee County. The Advocates will provide assistance to all victims including notification of prosecutorial and court actions and dates, crisis intervention, referral to other community service agencies, court accompaniment and orientation, restitution and property recovery, and otherwise. There is always an Advocate on-call to respond to homicide and vehicular homicide scenes to assist law enforcement with family members and/or friends.

Watson Government Complex
240 Constitution Blvd
Dallas, GA 30132
Project Director: Jamie White   Email: jwhite@paulding.gov
Authorized Official: David Austin   Email: daustin@paulding.gov

Agency Description
The overall goal of the Paulding County District Attorney's Office is to provide fair, effective, and expeditious prosecution of crimes in this county giving special attention to cases involving violent and serious crimes, such as homicides, robbery, sex crimes, crimes against children, violence against persons, and drug offenses, as well as repeat offenders. On an ongoing basis, this office must also provide effective prosecution of other felonies and misdemeanors in order to preserve public respect for and confidences in the criminal justice system. For example, domestic violence and DUls are continual problems in our county and require considerable attention by the District Attorneys Office.

Project Description
While providing services to victims of crime is not this agency’s sole purpose, the Paulding County District Attorney believes it to be a vital component. Therefore, the Victim-Witness Assistance Program was established in July of 2002 to ensure that the Crime Victims Bill of Rights is upheld as well as to offer moral support to victims and witnesses of crime and provide guidance through the criminal justice system. VOCA funding is utilized in maintaining quality services for victims and witnesses, to improve the program through training, and to build community relations with other organizations and agencies. Any individual who has the misfortune of being victimized in Paulding County is served by the Program. The individuals served by the program include those victimized by misdemeanor and felony crimes. The Crime Victim’s Bill of Rights encompasses a wide range of crimes that guarantees certain victims a voice and right to be informed and involved in the criminal justice process. It is the goal of the Paulding County District Attorney’s Office to educate and provide rights to all victims of crime. There is no segregation in the program as far as misdemeanor or felony, crimes against persons or crimes against property, or the severity of the crime. The program provides the degree of attention and services based on the victims’ needs, not the crime.

Agency Description
The Pataula Judicial VWAP is housed in the District Attorney's Office and covers seven rural counties in Southwest Georgia that include Clay, Early, Miller, Quitman, Randolph, Seminole and Terrell. The VWAP provides services to ALL victims of crime as a part of a comprehensive coordinated service delivery program and work in accordance with the Crime Victims Bill of Rights. There is an advocate on call 24/7 to respond for victims at the request of Law Enforcement. It’s advocates assist victims in securing TPO/Stalking Orders as well as assisting them in getting into a shelter for battered women. It also assists our Victims in completing, gathering information needed, and mailing Victim Compensation Forms. As a courtesy to victims, the agency will provide transportation and accompaniment to court hearings and other crime related appointments as needed.

Project Description
The Pataula VWAP is primarily a victim's assistance agency, however it is located in the office of T. Craig Earnest, District Attorney, and works together with the DA/ADA’s to form a team for victims. The staff of the District Attorney’s office includes four (4) Assistant D.A.’s, two (2) secretaries, and two (2) staff that work strictly with the Victim Assistance Program. One of the advocates is in court with the DA/ADA in every county, each time there is court. The agency assists the DA/ADA in talking with the victims, getting them prepared for trial and making sure that when restitution is applicable, it is ordered. If a victim is not present in court and there is a plea bargain offered the agency is able to contact the victim, explain the plea bargain to them and get their input. If they want to be present during the plea then they are allowed time to arrive before the plea is taken. The team works closely within this office to make sure victims have a better understanding of the criminal justice system, feel safe and stay informed about their case.

Agency Description

Chattahoochee Court Appointed Special Advocates or CASA is a program of Twin Cedars Youth and Family Services, Inc., a non-profit organization providing an array of residential and community based services for children and families. Residential services are provided for adolescent boys and girls with a focus on serving sexually traumatized youth, sexually aggressive youth, and severely emotionally disturbed youth, as well as teen mothers and their babies. Community based programs include: Child Advocacy Centers, Youth Leadership, Pregnancy/Child Abuse Prevention, Parenting, Summer Camps, Ropes and Teambuilding, Specialized Foster Care, Mental Health services and CASA. Chattahoochee CASA is a member of the National CASA Association and our state affiliate, the Georgia CASA Association.

Project Description
CASA’s are community volunteer advocates whose primary function is to provide courtroom advocacy to child victims of abuse and neglect. Volunteers have completed 40 hours of specialized National CASA training. A CASA’s role and responsibility to the court is outlined in the Official Code of Georgia (OCGA 15-11-9). A CASA Advocate provides individualized advocacy for child victims aiming to reduce the time a child spends in foster care or deprivation proceedings and to identify needs and gaps in services.

CASA’s conduct independent investigations on the case by reviewing relevant records and by conducting interviews with the child, parents, teachers, relatives, social service providers and other persons involved in the child’s life. CASAs develop and maintain an ongoing relationship with the child victim in effort to represent his/her wishes and best interest to the court. CASAs are also responsible for attending court hearings, judicial reviews and treatment team meetings as well as preparing the child for court and accompanying him/her as needed. The CASA Advocate shares information with DFCS case managers, the child advocate attorney and other partners to ensure the needs and concerns of the child are addressed and to work as part of a multidisciplinary team approach towards achieving permanency. A CASA Advocate spends most of their time in contact with a child in comparison to a paid guardian ad litem. CASA volunteers are also highly effective in getting their written recommendations accepted in court. Twin Cedars has a long history of providing for the needs of children in the community.

Agency Description
Children’s Tree House Child Advocacy Center (CAC) is a program of Twin Cedars Youth and Family Services, Inc., a 501(c)(3) nonprofit. Primary service delivery is to child victims of suspected sexual and/or extreme physical abuse within the Chattahoochee Judicial District. Secondary service is provided to counties outside of the five-county district. It should also be noted that the Georgia Bureau of Investigation and other states utilize the services of Children’s Tree House.

The CAC and our umbrella organization, Twin Cedars Youth and Family Services, Inc., are affiliated with numerous state and national organizations. The CAC is a "full member" center of the Children's Advocacy Centers of Georgia, Inc. (CACGA), the governing body which sets standards and best practices for Child Advocacy Centers across the state. The CAC is also a fully accredited member of the National Children's Alliance, the national accrediting body for CACs across the nation. Twin Cedars Youth and Family Services, Inc. is accredited by the Council of Accreditation (COA), which is recognized nationally... as an accrediting body with the "capacity, scope, and ability to contribute significantly to the behavioral health and social service delivery system."

Project Description
Victim Assistance is one of the core components in the design of the CAC. Once the child has been established as a "victim" following the forensic interview process, the CAC offers an array of victim assistance services. As a nationally accredited CAC, NCA mandates that it offers the following with regard to serving child victims of abuse: linkage with specialized mental health services, victim support/advocacy, multi-disciplinary case staffings, and tracking of case progress/outcomes made available to CAC clients as part of the coordinated team response. Therapeutic intervention is offered for all child victims regardless of ability to pay. Linkage to counseling services is the sole responsibility of the CAC. If families do not either have private pay insurance, PeachCare, or Medicaid, the CAC will absorb the cost of up to ten counseling sessions through our community partner, The Family Counseling Center of Columbus. Linkage with Victim Support/Advocacy must also be coordinated by the CAC.

Agency Description
To aid the many families involved in domestic violence in the four-county community, Four Points, Inc. opened its doors to the community on August 1, 1996 as a non-profit, tax-exempt agency. The agency is overseen by a volunteer Board of Directors and is staffed by both paid and unpaid staff. Four Points, Inc.
is an umbrella agency offering three services to families where domestic violence is a problem:
Supervised Visitation, a court mandated seminar for divorcing parents, titled TransParenting™, and the coordination of five multi-disciplinary teams for the Lookout Mountain Judicial Circuit Domestic Violence Task Force. Those Teams are: Safety Audit/Fatality Review, Teen Dating Violence, Elder Abuse, Training/Communications, and, Protocol Revision. Each of these services is uniquely tied to the legal system through which many families navigate due to domestic violence. The mission of Four Points, Inc.
is to provide services to minister to the needs of the four points of the family – mother, father, child, and family unit – involved in domestic violence and to thereby stop domestic violence. At Four Points, Inc. it is believed that the family is the community’s most precious resource. Four Points offers services to aid each member of the family in overcoming abuse that has occurred in the home and to rebuild healthy relationships with members of the family. Four Points wants children to love each parent guilt-free and the parent to cooperate threat-free.

to victims of crimes.
Project Description
The Victim/Witness Assistance Program is a separate unit within the District Attorney’s Office. The program is responsible for providing direct services and support to victims of felony and misdemeanor crimes. The District Attorney has assigned a Victim/Witness Coordinator to each of the four county offices which encompass Catoosa, Chattooga, Dade and Walker Counties. The prosecuting attorneys rely heavily upon the Victim/Witness Assistance Program Staff, to maintain contact with victims throughout the judicial process in order to provide direct assistance and support. The Victim/Witness Coordinators work closely with the prosecuting attorneys to ensure that the victim’s rights are upheld and to ensure that victims have the opportunity to participate in the judicial process making the Victim/Witness Assistance Program Staff an integral part of the District Attorney’s Office.

Agency Description
The Alcove, Inc. is a private not-for-profit, 501 (c)(3) emergency-shelter licensed by the state of Georgia’s Office of Regulatory Services to accommodate up to 12 youth. The target population is, males and females, ages 10 to 18, who may have runaway, or have been abused, abandoned, and otherwise rendered homeless by situations beyond their control. The Alcove was organized in 1979 due to the inability of public or private resources in the Alcovy Judicial Circuit to meet the needs of runaway and homeless youth, at a time when this circuit detained more youth status offenders (runaway, unruly and truant), than larger cities in Georgia.

Project Description
For nearly 30 years, the Alcove has provided strength-based services to runaway, abused, neglected and homeless youth. Located in Walton County, the population of The Alcove’s service area continues to explode. The Alcove has remained steadfast believing in the strengths, resources and resiliency that young people possess. The Alcove has led the way and maintained a diligent stride in promoting Positive Youth Development concepts for nearly 30 years. This concept suggests that helping young people to achieve their full potential is the best way to prevent them from engaging in risky behaviors. Furthermore, when youth feel listened to and have the chance to exercise leadership, build skills, and get involved in their communities, they gain self-confidence, trust, and practical knowledge that help them grow into healthy, happy, self-sufficient adults. This is the cornerstone of the shelter’s successful work with youth and families.
